

640 lb Liner

The Perfect Solution for In-Process Block Cheeses

A range of high barrier liners with proven performance in reducing leaker rates (no matter what type of filling equipment), while producing a smooth and uniform 640 cheese block

Overview

Combining advanced technology with production experience achieved from producing more than 100 million pouches per year allows Plastopil to manufacture barrel liners with unrivalled strength and mechanical properties.

Plastopil's 640 liners are specially designed for packaging non-maturing cheese (i.e. cheddar). These liners feature outstanding strength and mechanical properties that keep the film intact during the packaging process even when it comes in direct contact with sharp edges.

The largest cheese manufacturers in the United States and Europe trust Plastopil with their products and have come to depend on us and our world-class standards.

Technology

Plastopil's films are made using nine-layer co-extrusion blown film technology. Each layer is specifically designed to achieve different properties. We also put extra care into the pouch creation stage, paying specific attention to required dimension and shape, assuring a superior quality.

Features & Properties
